

I believe the republicans have always cried "States Right, States Rights." We even fought a war over it and you lost! Now that a New Jersey law , don't call list, is hurting you friends in the corporate world you have forgotten all about states rights, how convenient! Well, we have the right to not be annoyed by constant calls from 8:00am to 11:00pm, 7 days a week, even holidays. We have the right to have peace in our households. Your corpate friends will have to get more creative in there contacting people to offer their services. I am a businessperson, president of my company. I fine other ways, so can they. Do not interfere with our peace and quite.
